These are the outfits that get the highest votes in Fortnite, and if you disagree with the results, you can rate them yourself and change the ranking! The interface in Fortnite is an important part of the game's success! While most games of this nature tend to be the first and you can rarely see yourself, this game is in the third person so you always look at your cosmetics. That means the skin you have on is very more importantly, and you can personalize it in a variety of ways. The list below has the best interface that has been evaluated by us If you want to influence the ranking of this list, you can evaluate all the interfaces through our Fortnite Skins Gallery. Which skin is best in Fortnite? According to our readers, it seems midas is the best skin in Fortnite right now. You get some volatility on the list, with Elite Agent, Drift, Lynx and Catalyst all jockeying for the top spot, but it looks like men with gold contacts are occupying positions at the moment. Here's a look at the best costumes of all time on the away battles and item stores throughout fortnite's entire history. While there are some new people on the list, you'll notice that interfaces like Fishstick, iKONiK, Elite Agent, Drift, and some others have maintained high positions on the list for a very long time. Regarding the best harvesting tools in Fortnite, it seems that Reaper, Candy Axe and Vision have been able to stand the test of time and have been on the list for some time. However, Eon Blades and Aquaman's Trident made an initial impression on the player in Season 13 of the game. It is not too surprising to see wolfpack sitting as king of back blings. It's a super clean look, and just really looks awesome on a variety of skins. Shields has always been a popular choice, so Banner Shield is a clear winner. The ability to customize it is a great reward, and allows you to fit any skin. The galaxies disk is also a favorite, even if it is quite rare because it is part of the galaxies. You will mainly find the dance in the best expressed genre. Electro Swing is currently doing well, and can be achieved in the store, which is great news for most players. Billy Bounce is the one I've seen talk about most. I always have people asking when it will be back in the comments. Orange Justice is still high on the list, which is great to see because it's one of my favorites. Among the top wraps, there is an interesting dynamic going on. You have extremely popular Magma and have a great animation with it. Then you have Boogeyman Wrap which is one of the simplest designs. It's hard to hate on all black wrap though, it just looks good on all kinds of weapons and vehicles. The rest of the list is mostly animated, so simplicity has not won overall. While there have been quite a few additions from Season 13, it seems some old umbrellas have made it to the list. These can usually only be obtained by winning a game in a particular season, so they are not easy to get if you are just starting out in the game.
